

2012 HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

Thank you

OUR FAMILY OF DONORS INCLUDES
ALUMNI, PARENTS, STUDENTS, FACULTY, STAFF, FRIENDS
AND OUR CORPORATE AND FOUNDATION PARTNERS
WHO BELIEVE IN THE WORK WE ARE DOING.

FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Dear Friends,

As UC San Diego's eighth Chancellor, I am proud to become part of a legacy of academic achievement, dynamic growth and multi-disciplinary collaboration that has thrived on this campus. I look forward to your guidance, counsel and expertise as we build on our tradition of excellence and work together to define a shared vision for the future of UC San Diego. Our campus has made many discoveries and solved many challenges – the next invention, cure or breakthrough could happen at any moment if we continue to foster the imagination and innovation that has become synonymous with UC San Diego.

I want to commend everyone on the 2012 Honor Roll of Donors. You are the reason we continue to have a tremendous and positive impact on our community and world. Last year, you collectively gave over $131 million to our campus, health system and academic programs. Your gifts fund scholarships, construct academic and medical buildings, ensure excellent patient care, and foster the arts and a diverse student experience.

I thank you for the warm welcome, and I look forward to working with you and leading this university to even greater recognition and reputation.

With kind regards,

Gene and Hannah Step came to La Jolla from Indianapolis to retire 12 years ago. They became dedicated supporters of cardiovascular research and advancements at UC San Diego because of the stellar medical care Gene received from UC San Diego's Sulpizio Family Cardiovascular Center. "I view our support as an investment," says Gene. "The center has always been here for me when I needed it."

Dr. Irma Gigli, a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, is a professor emeritus and past chair of the Division of Dermatology at UC San Diego. She recognizes UC San Diego as a unique institution to train future leaders of medicine. "I'm a strong believer in giving back to the community that had been very generous to you. I support education because young people should be entitled to have the means to achieve their dreams with additional support to follow a career."

Daniel Yankelovich is a world-renowned public opinion analyst and has supported UC San Diego for over a decade. He now focuses his giving on research projects that address major social problems in America. "Our country needs our social sciences as never before to solve our most urgent problems. I want to do whatever I can to encourage UCSD to lead the way," he says.

MEMBERS OF THE YORK SOCIETY PLACE THEIR ULTIMATE CONFIDENCE IN UC SAN DIEGO, ENTRUSTING THE UNIVERSITY TO STEWARD THEIR DEEPEST IDEALS THROUGH A BEQUEST, LIFE INCOME GIFT OR ESTATE PLAN. THE SOCIETY IS NAMED IN HONOR OF THE LATE HERBERT YORK, FOUNDING CHANCELLOR OF UC SAN DIEGO AND RENOWNED PHYSICIST, PROFESSOR AND AMBASSADOR FOR PEACE.

"Herb was one of the most remarkable and influential scientists I have ever met. Whenever I pick up a book on the history of science policy in the United States, a history of the Manhattan Project, or a history of fundamental physics, Herb is featured prominently. He played an integral role in creating our nation's science agencies—the NSF, NASA and the Department of Energy—as well as an integral role in developing UC San Diego into a world-renowned university."

An avid fisherman, David C. DeLaCour wanted to help preserve the ocean and its inhabitants. Scripps Institution of Oceanography and Birch Aquarium at Scripps were the beneficiaries of a $3.5 million gift from his estate when he passed unexpectedly in 2010. Both Scripps and Birch will use the unrestricted funds for priority projects and emerging opportunities.

Francis and Lois Hamersky have generously donated to UC San Diego and the Shiley Eye Center through planned gifts. Lois remarks, "I have diabetes and Francis has glaucoma in one eye, so we really liked the idea of giving money that might someday help lead to cures for these diseases and keep our grandchildren from getting them."

A kind man, Arthur Brody recently passed, leaving a philanthropic legacy that has touched people like Ross Castillo, who emigrated from the Ukraine when he was six. "My mother could not have afforded a college education for me, so the Arthur Brody & Phyllis Cohn Scholarship gave me the chance to pursue my goals," says Ross, who is now at Stanford Medical School.

A longtime advocate for UC San Diego students and young faculty, Julia Brown is a believer in passing good fortune forward, and in supporting talent in the sciences. Once a scholarship recipient herself, she has supported dozens of students and young faculty at UC San Diego, including molecular biologist Ananda Goldrath. Closing the circle, or starting a new one, is Jessica Fujimoto, an undergraduate student in Goldrath's lab, and a Julia Brown scholarship recipient.

Ryan Darby '04 and Vince Vasquez '02 established the Military Veteran Scholarship to help support veterans who are pursuing their undergraduate education at UC San Diego. "It is our generation's responsibility to make sure the needs of our military veterans are met," said Vasquez. Darby and Vasquez are actively working with colleagues, friends and fellow alumni to encourage others to make gifts.

Marilyn D. and David J. Dunn's support for the Department of Ophthalmology includes gifts to the 4sight4children Fund, glaucoma and retina research, as well as the EyeMobile for Children. "We made all of our contributions because the Shiley Eye Center is one of the most outstanding eye centers in the world. We encourage the good work, especially because we too have our own eye issues. This makes us focus on how critical vision is to people of all ages," stated David Dunn.

Peter Gourevitch, Professor Emeritus of Political Science, is devoted to musical development and to children of lesser means. A founding member on the boards of The Preuss School UCSD and Villa Musica, a community music school, he saw an opportunity to link the two together. Thanks to Peter, several Preuss students are taking Villa Musica lessons.

Marcy and Jeffrey Krinsk launched the Krinsk Research Advancement Initiative at Scripps Institution of Oceanography, a unique fundraising program that provides tangible resources to support core research needs of early-career Scripps scientists and their students. "What's so important about this initiative is that Scripps students and professors are saving the world, right here in San Diego. We are pleased and honored to support some of the world's most dedicated and hardworking new scientists and graduate students as they address our planet's most pressing environmental challenges," says Marcy.

The Hugh "Bud" Mehan Undergraduate Scholarship was established by colleagues, family, friends and former students in his honor to help local underserved high school students attend UC San Diego. Dr. Hugh Mehan and his wife Dr. Margaret Riel '73 endowed the scholarship fund and continue to make gifts along with others to provide support to even more students.

The Moxie Foundation's gift, spearheaded by founder Irwin Zahn, to establish the Moxie Center in the Jacobs School of Engineering, supports undergraduate engineering students in their efforts to dream, design and develop products leading to new business creation. Zahn's history of success in business fuels his desire to empower students via the creation of this new incubator. "Opportunities disguised as problems are everywhere. Take a chance and solve the problem."

"As a retired staff member, I am very happy to support UC San Diego Chancellor's Associates. Knowing that our philanthropy benefits students, like those I worked with at Warren College, inspires me and Henry to remain involved. Through our giving, and our volunteerism to help advance diversity initiatives on campus, we know that we are making a real difference." – Catherine A. Joseph, PhD and Henry Joseph Jr.

"I made a gift to UC San Diego because I believe that it's important to give back to a place that has helped many people, including myself, to go above and beyond what they thought was their full potential. My experience at UC San Diego helped me learn and discover more about myself and my capabilities than I ever dreamed possible. I hope my support will help future generations." – Andrew Liang '12

BEHIND EVERY CORPORATION, FOUNDATION OR ORGANIZATION, THERE ARE INDIVIDUAL DECISION-MAKERS
WHOSE PHILANTHROPIC CHOICES MIRROR THE IDEALS
OF MANY. WE ARE GRATEFUL FOR THESE GIFTS OF $10,000
OR MORE GIVEN FROM JULY 1, 2011 TO JUNE 30, 2012.

The W. M. Keck Foundation has generously supported UC San Diego for several years. Recently, the foundation awarded Scripps Institution of Oceanography $1 million to build a groundbreaking underwater video microscope for looking at tiny marine nanoplankton. The foundation's grant-making is focused primarily on pioneering efforts in the areas of medical research, science and engineering.

For nearly 50 years, the American Cancer Society has been a generous supporter of cancer research at UC San Diego, with giving totaling over $54 million since 1964. Much of this funding has been for young investigators at a critical juncture, where such an award can lead to a long-term career of important contributions to cancer research.

The Simons Foundation Autism Research Initiative has supported the work of UC San Diego neuroscientists Joseph Gleeson, MD, Eric Courchesne, PhD (pictured at left) and Jonathan Sebat, PhD. Their research focuses, respectively, on the genetic causes of pediatric brain disease, identifying genetic and brain development factors that cause autism, and the genetics of brain development in children and adolescents. Findings from their work could lead to discoveries of new prevention strategies and treatment for autism.
